DAHLIAS

(New Jersey Grown)

With great pleasure we present to you our catalogue for 1923. The season just passed was most gratifying and we wish, at this time, to thank our friends for their support and encouragement by their many expressions of appreciation.

Each season brings forth many new introductions and of the sixty odd 1922 introductions we tested, about twenty-five will be found listed here with the best of the previous years.

We believe that every dahlia listed has true Merit, regardless of the place or time of its origin.

Dahlias can be grown in most any climate or soil condition, although, a light sandy loam seems to be the best. Plant the tubers about four to six inches deep in well prepared soil, to which only a little bone-meal has been added, later when the buds begin to set, top dress with sheep manure and repeat about every ten days or two weeks until frost.

Do not make the mistake of over feeding thereby softening the blooms and reducing the vitality of the plant.

Bear in mind, it is not the size of the tuber planted, but the quick establishment of the new root system, that will give the best results.

The prices quoted on the following pages are for field grown tubers, guaranteed to be healthy and true to name and will be shipped Post paid, at the proper time for planting.

The names are arranged in alphabetical order and the following abbreviations are used:—C—Cactus; H.C.—Hybrid Cactus; D.—Decorative; Sh.—Show; P.—Paeony flowered; H.D.—Hybrid decorative.

Mrs. John M. Root—H.C. (J. M. R.)

An enormous flower of pure canary yellow. One of the largest dahlias ever produced. The petals are long, broad and slightly twisted giving the flower great diameter and depth. The bush growth is remarkable, plants attaining a height of six to seven feet without forcing, holding the massive blooms well above your head. To be disseminated in 1924. Winner of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society Silver Medal at Bryn Mawr, Pa., 1922
